In the year of the bicentenary, the figure of Giuseppe Verdi has been the subject of an insistent pop reconversion. A Milano con Verdi, by Giancarla Moscatelli (edizioni Curci), accompanies us through the places he passed by. All the way to the Casa di riposo per musicisti (Home for retired musicians, Ed.). Paola Calvetti ventures into those rooms for Parlo d'amor con me (Mondadori).

The theater show Le stanze di Verdi instead opens to the public apartment 105 (left intact) of the Grand Hotel et de Milan, where, in 1901, the maestro died.

For the new generations, the Teatro Comunale di Modena is publishing a collection of comic strips Lirica a strisce (teatrocomunalemodena.it). And Giuseppe Verdi - Master composers and Verdi e Milano come in the format of multimedia apps.
